

Maple Grove Cemetery

at the corner of North Maple Grove Avenue and Cadmus Road along the north edge of the City, is operated by the City and dates back to 1867, when the original City cemetery (in what is now Webster Park) became filled. Legible gravestones were reset in a memorial plot at Maple Grove Cemetery in 1961.

Sprawling over 30 acres of wooded land, this scenic Victorian cemetery also showcases a striking receiving vault constructed in 1884.

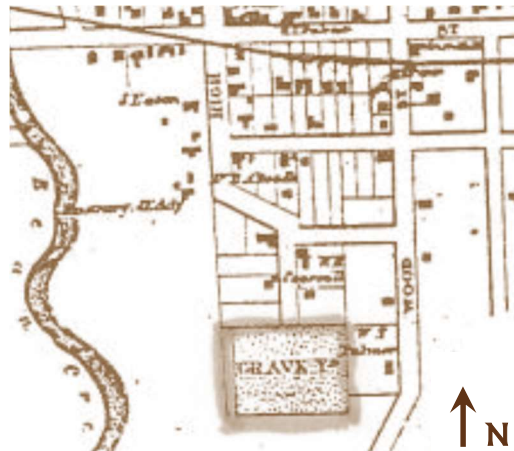

Old City Cemetery

is located in the southeastern part of the City of Hudson. It is now a part of Webster Park. It is also the location of the large HUDSON water tower, which is visible for several miles, and that is situated in the far southeastern corner of the park.

Known burials occurred here from 1836 through 1897.
